Vicki Silber - Special Education

My name is Vicki Silber and I am excited to start my fifth year at St. Celestine School. It is a wonderful school and everyone continues to make me feel welcomed and part of the St. Celestine family.

I graduated from Quincy College with a degree in Elementary Education and began my teaching career at St. Vincent Ferrer. Two years later I obtained my Masters degree in Special Education at Dominican University. I taught for several years in special education before hanging up my eraser. After raising my four beautiful children, I returned to teaching. Before taking a position at St. Celestine, I taught eight years with Chicago Public Schools, providing special education services to children who attend schools in the archdioceses.

During my free time I enjoy visiting my adult children, two who live in Chicago and two who live out of town. I also enjoy reading books while my husband attempts to fish. I like walking outdoors, trying new restaurants, and riding the Peloton. I think I like the Peloton because the trainers always say it does not matter where you are on the leaderboard as long as you try your best, which is what I tell my students.
